

DISCLAIMER: Naive assessment undertaken by Chris.Browne@anu.edu.au based on information available on P&C. Errors, oversights, misunderstandings are likely my own.

LAWS4312 The Law of Money

<https://programsandcourses.anu.edu.au/course/LAWS4312>

Prerequisite structure Open to students with particular courses

Prerequisite units Normally completed at least 48 units

TD Skills: Do students develop transdisciplinary problem-solving skills through this course?

Not Likely

No or serendipitous engagement with transdisciplinary problem-solving skills

For example

Unclear whether TD skills are developed

TD Skills: Do students meaningfully collaborate across disciplinary/area difference through this course?

Somewhat Likely

Students engaging with material that facilitates collaboration with other disciplinary backgrounds

For example

Description: Case studies will include the legal mechanics involved in creating and responding to: financial crises, disparities in wealth (local and global), and the environmental challenges of modern industrial activity. LO: [Interactive] Select and apply a range of approaches to written and oral communication, and hypothesise solutions to complex problems in the regulation of monetary and financial systems

TD Context: How is the transdisciplinary problem-solving experience situated with respect to broader contexts?

Somewhat Likely

Students explore big-picture problems, ideas and broader contexts in relation to a discipline/area

For example

LO: Explore and critically analyse some of the current controversies and trends in the areas of monetary and financial law