

DISCLAIMER: Naive assessment undertaken by Chris.Browne@anu.edu.au based on information available on P&C. Errors, oversights, misunderstandings are likely my own.

ASIA2311 Gender and Cultural Studies in Asia and the Pacific

<https://programsandcourses.anu.edu.au/course/ASIA2311>

Prerequisite structure Open to all students

Prerequisite units Completed minimum of 24 units

TD Skills: Do students develop transdisciplinary problem-solving skills through this course?

Likely

Students engage with and are supported to develop appropriate transdisciplinary problem-solving skills

For example

Description: Students will be introduced to key interdisciplinary tools and approaches from the field of gender and cultural studies. LO [Plurality]: Identify and evaluate interdisciplinary theories and approaches in gender and cultural studies; LO [Context]: Reflect on the cross-cultural processes and interdisciplinary approaches through which current knowledge about gender and culture in Asia and the Pacific has developed

TD Skills: Do students meaningfully collaborate across disciplinary/area difference through this course?

Somewhat Likely

Students from broad disciplinary background participating in collaboration with peers or experts

For example

Assessment: Group Project: Smartphone Application Prototype LO: Reflect on the cross-cultural processes and interdisciplinary approaches through which current knowledge about gender and culture in Asia and the Pacific has developed;

TD Context: How is the transdisciplinary problem-solving experience situated with respect to broader contexts?

Likely

Students navigate big-picture problems or ideas from multiple perspectives relevant to broad and interconnected disciplines

For example

Description: Through analytical, practice-based and creative assessments, students will gain crucial tools to engage with the politics of everyday life in Asia and the Pacific.