

DISCLAIMER: Naive assessment undertaken by Chris.Browne@anu.edu.au based on information available on P&C. Errors, oversights, misunderstandings are likely my own.

ECON2014 Managerial Economics

<https://programsandcourses.anu.edu.au/course/ECON2014>

Prerequisite structure Open to students with particular courses

Prerequisite units Normally completed at least 48 units

TD Skills: Do students develop transdisciplinary problem-solving skills through this course?

Likely

Students engage with and are supported to develop appropriate transdisciplinary problem-solving skills

For example

Description [Systemic]: During the course we will touch the role of risk management systems, disaster-management systems, and effective decision making under uncertainty. LO: Develop the internal and external managerial economics decisions apparatus to make efficient decisions

TD Skills: Do students meaningfully collaborate across disciplinary/area difference through this course?

Somewhat Likely

Students engaging with material that facilitates collaboration with other disciplinary backgrounds

For example

Class summary: ECON2014 is a highly engaging course, so active regular participation in class discussions is highly expected in the course and course develops skills critically needed for a successful future Global business/economics Leaders. Class Summary: ECON2014 Managerial Economics course is using Cross-Cultural responsive teaching philosophy in its delivery, that means that this course highly encourages the use of your cultural background and the use of your previous cultural knowledge and expertise in your assignments, but also sharing in class with the students in a course.

TD Context: How is the transdisciplinary problem-solving experience situated with respect to broader contexts?

Somewhat Likely

Students explore big-picture problems, ideas and broader contexts in relation to a discipline/area

For example

Description: course concludes with key contemporary applications of Organisational Architecture in dominating areas of executive concerns: Corporate Governance, Vertical Integration, Outsourcing, and we discuss the future of the Gig Economy. LO: Analyse real-world managerial economics problems with a systematic theoretical framework.